ANGUILLA (Road Bay) - Time at leisure (no tours organized)

Anguilla, the most northerly of the Leeward Islands is 16 miles long and three miles across at its widest point. The island is low-lying and ringed with 12 miles of spectacular, white sand and coral formations, which make up 33 beaches and coves. Surrounding the island is a reef system and seven islets and cays, excellent for diving and snorkeling. The waters are clear and range in color from blue to aquamarine. Water sports are one of the main attractions of the island, that is a retreat for celebrities, and it is sometimes called the "South Beach" of the Caribbean.

JOST VAN DYKE (White Bay) - Time at leisure (no tours organized)

This four-mile-long island, named after a Dutch pirate, is truly a "barefoot" paradise, known by travelers the world over for its casual lifestyle, protected anchorages, fine beaches and beachfront restaurants and bars. A favorite destination for Yachties, Jost Van Dyke adjoins the tropical isles of Green Cay and Sandy Spit.

TORTOLA (Soper's Hole) - Time at leisure (no tours organized)

Soper's Hole is a kind of tropical urban "gunk hotel", a nautical term for a delightful spot to anchor. The locality manages to retain its quaint charm while at the same time being a hub of activity. Surrounded by small mountains like Frenchman's Cay, Soper's Hole imparts a feeling of peace and serenity.

NORMAN ISLAND (The Bight) - Time at leisure (no tours organized)

This uninhabited island is where many believe Robert Louis Stevenson became inspired to pen his famous pirate novel, Treasure Island. Star Clippers will drop you off on a jetty where you can walk onto the beach.

ST KITTS - St Kitts Scenic Rail tour

Duration:	Activity level:	Price:	Transportation:	Min 15 / Max 80
3:00	Easy	82 €	minibus, train	participants

Excursions leave from Basseterre port and return at South Friars Bay.

The St. Kitts Scenic Railway takes passengers on a 3-hour tour that makes a 30-mile circle around the beautiful island of St. Kitts, with 18 miles by narrow gauge train and 12 miles on sightseeing buses. Built between 1912 and 1926 to transport sugar cane from the island's sugar plantations to the sugar factory in the capital city of Basseterre, today the "Last Railway in the West Indies" provides visitors an opportunity to experience the scenery and culture of this unspoiled country.

This still operational railway now provides a fascinating way to see the entire island from the comfort of double-deck railcars built specifically for touring the island of St. Kitts. The upper level features a spacious open-air observation deck with panoramic views of the surrounding countryside. The lower level provides air-conditioned comfort with expansive vaulted windows. Island ambiance is evoked with comfortable rattan furniture, complimentary specialty drinks, island music and a colorful narrative history of the Caribbean.

The railway hugs the northeastern coastline with rippling fields of sugarcane stretching from the shoreline up to the mountains. The high volcanic mountain ranges, coated with lush green rainforests, rise nearly 4000 feet above sea level. The train rolls across tall steel bridges spanning deep "ghuts" or canyons, and winds through small villages and farms. Your railway conductor will point out old sugar estates, abandoned sugar mills and windmills while giving insight into the island's unique history.

The island tour is completed by a scenic bus drive on the Southern coast with excellent vistas of Brimstone fortress, the British "Gibraltar of the Caribbean", back to the ship in South Friars' bay.

Please note: The order of the visits may change. The actual ride by train is approx. 2 hours and the train is very slow.

Complimentary drinks are served on the lower level of the railcar. Restrooms are available on the train.

Useful tips: wear weather-appropriate clothes and comfortable walking shoes and bring a hat, sunscreen and water.

If you plan to stay at the beach at the end of the tour, wear your swimsuit under your clothes and bring a towel.

Excursions leave from Basseterre port and return at South Friars Bay.

This could very well be the Caribbean's most memorable island tour. It includes Brimstone Hill Fortress National Park, Romney Gardens, Caribelle Batik Studio and an interesting drive through Basseterre.

Brimstone Hill Fortress, also known as The Gibraltar of the West Indies, is perched on a 40-acre hilltop, 780 ft above sea level. For three hundred years it has borne witness to innumerable sea battles between the British and the French, more than at any other place in the two nation's naval history. The first cannons were mounted on Brimstone Hill in 1690 as the English and French fought for control of the island. Its spectacular panoramic views over coastline, countryside and neighboring islands.

No visit to St. Kitts is complete without a visit to Romney Gardens and Caribelle Batik Studios. This 10-acre garden setting is quite simply stunning. It is at this glorious location that local artists produce the fabric and apparel for which Caribelle Batik has become widely acclaimed.

You will also get to drive through beautiful Basseterre. This historic Capital City is a perfect example of an original Caribbean town. Observe the traditional French architecture and Victorian structures. Old churches, West Indian cottages and a former slave market are also included in this interesting driving tour of Basseterre. Your next visit is to the Palm court gardens where his inspiring property will command you to either take pictures of the harbour or the beautiful palms on the property.

Afterwards you will take the Kim Collins Highway to Frigate Bay and stop at the scenic look out at Timothy Hill before returning to your ship in South Friars' Bay with a host of memories and, hopefully, some excellent photos.

Please note: The driver is also the guide and gives live commentary (in English) along the way. The order of the visits may change.

Useful tips: wear weather-appropriate clothes and comfortable walking shoes and bring a hat, sunscreen and water.

Saint Maarten is one of the most unique destinations in the Caribbean. Since 1648 the island has been divided between the French and the Dutch with both sides maintaining their very distinct personality and heritage. The French side, Saint Martin is quiet and refined with gorgeous white beaches, French cuisine and sophisticated resorts.

The Dutch side of Sint Maarten has a more obvious Caribbean flavor with its brightly colored buildings and tropical flair.

The whole island's economy is based on tourism with around 70% of the population working in the tourist sector. The island is also duty-free, which of course enhances its attractiveness for tourists.

Leaving the cruise port, you will be dropped off in nearby Philipsburg (the Dutch Capital) for a one-hour browsing and shopping on famous Front Street or for a leisurely stroll along the boardwalk to enjoy the turquoise waters of Great Bay.

After the free time, you will be driven past the salt ponds to Oyster Pond, where you will cross the border to the French side.

Following the road to the charming village of Oyster Pond you will arrive at Coralita lookout point (photo stop), from where the island of St Barth can be seen in the distance. The journey continues towards Orient bay and the village Grand Case until you arrive to Marigot, the capital of the French side of St. Martin, where you will have approximately one hour free time for some more souvenir hunting, duty free shopping or just to enjoy a coffee in a typical French café.

Leaving the charming French capital of Marigot you will be driven on the way to the border where you will cross back the Dutch side of the island. You will cross the Simpson Bay lagoon and you will arrive at 12h30 at Princess Juliana International airport.

Please note: You will have approximately one hour free time in Philipsbug (on the Dutch side) and one hour free time in Marigot (on the French side). Walking during free time is at guests' discretion.
