GIBRALTAR - Gibraltar's history and heritage

Sightseeing

Depart the ship and head north towards the Spanish border. On the way you will cross the airstrip completed in 1942 and used by General Eisenhower during Operation Torch, the Allied invasion of North Africa. The minibus then heads to Europa Point, the southernmost point of Gibraltar.

On a clear day you can see across the Straits to North Africa, including Ceuta and the Rif Mountains of Morocco. From Europa Point, continue to the Great Siege Tunnels and visit this labyrinth of tunnels inside the Rock of Gibraltar.

During the Great Siege, the gallant defenders were stunned when the Spanish and French besiegers dug trenches too close to Gibraltar for the British to fire on them. Imaginative solutions were needed, and Sergeant Major Ince suggested digging tunnels to reach a rock outcrop so that the British guns could fire sideways at the attackers.

As the tunnel was dug by hand through the solid rock, the dust was so stifling that air vents were created, and it was then realised that these holes would make excellent embrasures for guns. The Great Siege Tunnels are a testament to British ingenuity, sheer courage and determination, and perhaps the most ingenious defence system devised by man in 1783. Finally, take a transfer back to the pier.

Please note: There will be driver-guides on the tour. This tour involves a lot of walking through tunnels and over hilly and cobblestone terrain. The order of the visits is subject to change.

The monkeys are wild animals, please do not attempt to touch or feed them.

Dress for the weather, wear comfortable walking shoes and bring a hat and water.

Sightseeing

Depart the ship and head north towards the Spanish border. On the way you will cross the airstrip completed in 1942 and used by General Eisenhower during Operation Torch, the Allied invasion of North Africa. The minibus then heads to Europa Point, the southernmost point of Gibraltar.

On a clear day you can see across the Straits to North Africa, including Ceuta and the Rif Mountains of Morocco. From Europa Point the walk continues to the Upper Rock and St Michael's Cave.

The cave was formed when rainwater slowly seeped through the limestone, turning into a carbonic acid solution that dissolved the rock. Over thousands of years, tiny crevices grew into long passages and deep caverns with an amazing collection of stalactites and stalagmites. The cave was well known to the Greeks and Romans and was the subject of many legends. It was thought to be a bottomless pit and the fantastic rock formations made it easy to believe that it was in fact the gateway to the underworld. Today the cave has shed its sinister reputation and is used for live shows, concerts and an annual world music festival. After visiting the cave, we will pay our respects to some of Gibraltar's most popular residents, the famous Barbary macaques, the only free-roaming monkeys in Europe. Legend has it that the monkeys arrived in Gibraltar from Morocco by following an underground passage under the Straits that ends at St Michael's Cave. The tour continues to the old town and the city centre before returning to the ship.

Please note: There will be driver-guides on the tour. This tour involves extensive walking over uneven surfaces. The ground at St Michael's cave is wet and slippery and there are a lot of steps to negotiate.

The monkeys are wild animals, please do not attempt to touch or feed them.

Marrakech, also known as the "Red City", is the most important of Morocco's four imperial cities. The city has a long history and offers visitors magnificent palaces straight out of the Arabian Nights, fabulous gardens, mosques and Koranic schools. Home to intellectuals, writers and talented craftsmen, this bustling commercial centre is a blend of exotic cultures and the undisputed capital of southern Morocco.

The drive to Marrakech takes approximately 3 hours, but there will be a 10 minute comfort stop along the way.

The visit begins with a tour of the magnificent Bahia Palace, where enchanting Moorish gardens surround beautiful buildings with finely carved ceilings. You will then proceed to the Medina, the ancient fortified city guarded by battlements. Here you will see the famous Koutoubia minaret, a landmark that can be seen from virtually anywhere in Marrakech. After a typical Moroccan lunch and a traditional folklore performance, you will be ready to explore the heart of Marrakech, the famous Djamma El Fna square with its snake charmers, tooth pullers, storytellers and acrobats who perform every day at sunset. The pleasantly cool and shady medina is home to dozens of craft guilds, from wool dyers to coppersmiths and spice merchants. There are several entrances to the souks from Djamma El Fna Square, and at the end of the tour you will have time to browse before the three-hour drive back to the port of Safi. Sightseeing | Unesco

With its ancient red walls, Essaouira is undoubtedly one of Morocco's most charming and attractive coastal towns. Essaouira means 'enclosed', which is probably due to the imposing city wall that surrounds the beautiful old town, which has been declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site. You will be enchanted by the gleaming whitewashed houses with blue shutters, the art galleries, the woodworking workshops and the fishermen with their colourful boats. The town faces a group of rocky islands and is surrounded by an expanse of empty sandy beaches and dunes. The tranquillity of Essaouira today contrasts with its rich and turbulent history. The Portuguese built the fortress of Mogador (the former name of Essaouira) here in 1506, and throughout the 16th century England, France, Spain and the Netherlands all tried to conquer the place. This ancient trading and fishing port has been shaped by many different foreign influences over the years, resulting in a charming mix of Portuguese, Berber and French architecture.

You will visit the Bab Marrakech square, La Scala, the old town and the old port ("le Vieux port"). Lunch will be served in a seafood restaurant and after lunch you will have some free time to shop in Bab Marrakech Square or relax in charming cafes overlooking the Atlantic Ocean before the 2,5-hour return journey to the port of Safi.

Please note: This tour involves a long drive (2,5 hours between Safi and Essaouira - each way) and extensive walking and standing over cobblestone and uneven surfaces. The order of the visits is subject to change.

Dress for the weather, wear comfortable walking shoes and bring a hat and water.

On this tour you will board your coach and set off for the southern part of the island, passing the picturesque villages of Macher and Uga and crossing streams of black lava before arriving at the southwest coast and the site known as El Golfo (green lake) for a photo stop.

We then continue to the Timanfaya National Park, which covers a unique volcanic landscape created between 1730 and 1736, when more than 100 volcanoes along a 50km stretch devastated this part of the island, destroying several villages. The last eruptions were in 1824, but due to the very low rainfall on the island and the lack of erosion, the site has remained intact and appears as it did immediately after the eruptions, a natural museum.

On the Islote de Hilario hill you will see that the thermal power of the volcanoes is still visible. Park staff will show you how dry weeds thrown on the ground catch fire instantly, while water poured into a hole produces steam like a mini geyser. Food can even be cooked as the heat from the earth's core acts as a natural barbecue.

On the 'Lunar Route' into the heart of the National Park we learn about the history of the volcanoes and see rare plants that illustrate how life can slowly conquer even the most inhospitable environment.

The excursion continues with a visit to the La Geria wine region, where over the centuries the locals have learnt to adapt viticultural techniques to this unique landscape and produce the famous Malvasia wines.

You will be amazed to see vines growing in the black holes left by volcanoes, and will visit a local wine cellar to taste the wine before returning to the ship.

Please note: This tour includes a long panoramic drive on mountain winding roads, so this is not the ideal tour for guests suffering from motion sickness.

Dress for the weather, wear comfortable walking shoes and bring a hat and water.

LANZAROTE (Arrecife) - Trekking on moonscape

Active & Adventure | Nature

During this very informative excursion you'll be able to discover the amazing world of volcanoes, walk on solidified lava flows, climb volcanic cones, see spectacular craters, lava tunnels, channels and tubes. Los Volcanes Nature Park, together with Timanfaya National Park, are protected areas that represent the recent and historic volcanism of Lanzarote, as they are covered by the spectacular eruptions that took place between 1730 and 1736 and in 1824.

All the volcanic structures in the area are well preserved due to Lanzarote's dry climate; the landscape is like a huge open-air museum of volcanology. You'll learn about the slow but constant rebirth of life on the lava. Certainly an 'out of this world' experience for any trekker!

Please note: This tour must be considered strenuous (very active) and is recommended only for guests who are in very good physical condition. This tour includes a considerable amount of hike (approx. 7 km – 3 hrs), over rocky and uneven ground, volcanic ash, inclines. The trekking will be done in the Nature Park of Timanfaya (but NOT inside the Timanfaya National Park).

Wear weather-appropriate clothes (including warm clothes) and proper hiking shoes and bring a hat, sunscreen and enough water for the whole hike.

The drive between the port and the start point / end point of the hike last approx. 30 minutes.

You will also see the animals that shared this hard and frugal life, such as goats, donkeys and camels. There are authentic bread ovens and mills, and artisans give live demonstrations of crafts such as embroidery, basket weaving, pottery, cheese making and blacksmithing. Visitors can buy the local "gofio" or bread made on the spot, as well as handicrafts such as pottery, brass work, baskets, embroidery and objects made from wood or palm trees.

Next you will be taken to one of Fuerteventura's Aloe Vera plantations. The Aloe Vera plant is native to the Canary Islands and you will learn all about its cultivation and its use in cosmetics and medicine.

After the presentation, you will have the opportunity to buy some Aloe Vera products. Finally, we will stop at the Cheese Museum in Antigua, where you will discover the island through its rich cheese-making tradition. During the visit you will have the opportunity to taste some of the goat's cheese. The museum has several areas to explore. You can learn about the island's volcanic origins, its flora and fauna, and the Majorera goats and their famous cheese, all organised around a central patio. The museum also houses the original Antigua windmill, which is in perfect working order. Don't miss the opportunity to visit the cactus garden, a green treasure with species that only grow on the island and others from all over the world.
