Panoramic | Nature

Forming an almost perfect circle, La Gomera is the second smallest of the Canary Islands. San Sebastian, the capital of the island (around 6,000 inhabitants), is a picturesque village and port. It was here that Columbus loaded his ships with food and water before setting sail for America. On this leisurely excursion you will explore the scenic north side of the island and the beautiful National Park where you will learn about the local flora and fauna.

Your guide will take you on a short and easy walk through one of the oldest laurel forests in the world; a green mass of prehistoric vegetation that has survived thanks to the island's exceptionally temperate climate. The area was declared a National Park in 1981 and a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1986.

The tour continues with a panoramic drive to visit the Juego de Bolas (Parque Nacional del Garajonay Visitor Centre). Here you will find a wealth of information on the geology, climate, flora and fauna of the park. At the "House of Memory" you can learn about traditional culture through exhibits such as the interior of a rural house, agricultural tools, a cellar and traditional ceramics. Continue through Agulo to Hermigua, a beautiful green valley known for its mild climate, water-filled ravines and banana plantations. Here you can visit a handicraft centre with displays of local pottery, utensils and looms that give a good idea of how the inhabitants used to live. Return to the port of San Sebastián.

Please note: This excursion includes a long drive on mountain roads. The order of the visits is subject to change. Dress for the weather, wear comfortable walking shoes and bring a hat and water.
